“Duke of Edinburgh’s International Award was not just an accomplishment, but a journey of self-discovery and resilience.”

Mohammad Anas Mohammad Adam

Duke of Edinburgh’s International Award

Ever heard of The Duke of Edinburgh’s International Award or Anugerah Remaja Perdana Rakan Muda?

It’s like a significant achievement for young stars worldwide. This award is all about prepping you for the real world and working life, breaking it down into four awesome sections. It’s your passport to skills and experiences that stick with you for life.

(No pressure, totally voluntary!)

Clubs and societies are all about adding that extra oomph to students' time here and creating experiences that stick. Think about clubs like Model United Nation, Debate & Public Speaking Club and Noticias – they're mostly learner-led. It's all about finding your voice and being bold.

Now, when it comes to sports clubs, it's all about getting active and having a blast. Take the swimming club, for example. You can drop by, swim a few laps to stay in shape or gather some buddies for a game of water polo. And let me tell you, things can get pretty intense with clubs like football and volleyball. Nothing beats the thrill of the game!
